.gitignore and .gitkeep

What is .gitignore ?

→ a gitignore is a file which will be created in parent repository which will be telling git to don't track those which are mentioned in .gitignore

→ Important thing to be considered we should use relative path her

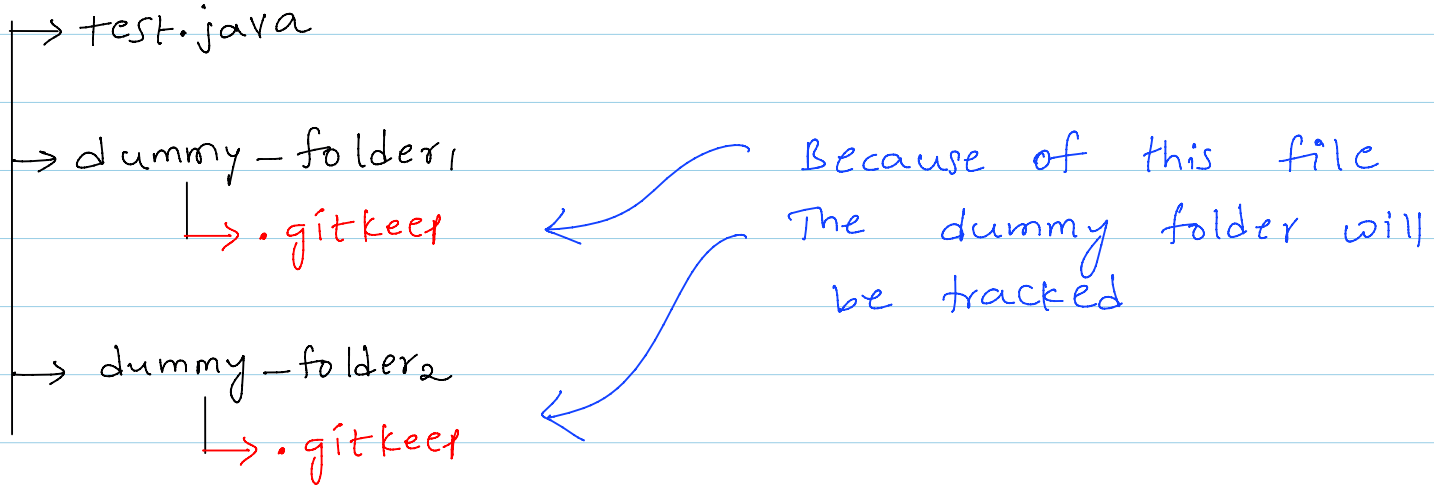

→ which is relative to root directory

Imp :- Git don't track Empty folders

→ if we have atleast one file then only Git will track that folder

→ as we know Git won't track empty folder but if we want to track that empty folder

→ we need to keep .gitkeep file in that empty folder

Imp :- If we want to track an empty folder we should have n number of .gitkeep files
